PERSONNEL OF WHEAT BOARD

The appointments to the Canadian Wheat Board were announced on Wednesday. John I. McFarland is chairman, D. L. Smith, vice chairman, and the third member is H. C. Grant.

Mr. McFarland, well known as a wheat grower, is manager of the Canadian Wheat Pool since 1929 and the man who conducted the government wheat stabilization operations. D. L. Smith was formerly sales manager for the Canadian Wheat Pool, latterly the Pool's representative in Europe, and for the past year he has been operating a grain importing business of his own in London, England.

H. C. Grant is professor of economics in the University of Manitoba, with a wide knowledge of farming conditions in Western Canada.

The board held its first meeting on Wednesday and announced that future wheat trading would soon be resumed on the Winnipeg exchange. The minimum price will shortly be announced. The exchange will be permitted to operate under certain regulations.

An advisory board of seven members has been appointed to act along with the wheat board. Lew Hutchison of Dalmat, director of Canadian Wheat Pool, is a member of this advisory board.

J. C. Buckley Gives Government's Record

A fair sized audience greeted Mr. J. C. Buckley Tuesday evening when he held a meeting in the interests of the U. F. A. party, for this district, in the Memorial Hall.

Mr. Buckley's address was a plain, unadorned statement of the government's record, during its term of office, and he refused repeatedly to answer questions made by other political parties. The speaker made it exceedingly clear that he in no way approves of mud slinging and only made personal references as they affected or misrepresented the question under discussion.

Explaining his stand on Social Credit, Mr. Buckley said he disapproved of the plan for the following reasons: 1. That the Aberhart reasons are too vague. 2. That the party has no confidence in their own proposals when they would clearly explain them. 3. That the Aberhart plan of Social Credit is illegal. 4. That there is a tragic and cruel disappointment in store for those setting their hope therein.

The speaker took up the High Lights in the work of the U. F. A. government. These have been dealt with so often in the past that it is not necessary to repeat, hence we will not repeat.

Mr. Angus Watson was chairman, and Mr. Frank Skeene explained the system of marking the Social Credit period was announced, but all seemed convinced without further explanation, and only two were asked. Standing God Save the King concluded an interesting evening.

WILL ROGERS' LAST LINES

The last lines of Will Rogers were in his long series of letters to editors appeared, by coincidence in newspapers on the last day of his life.

These last lines sent from Fairbanks, Alaska, follow:

"Visited our new emigrants. Now, this is no time to discuss whether it will succeed or whether it won't, whether its farming country or whether it is not, and to enumerate the hundreds of mistakes, and confusions, and rows, and arguments, and management, in the whole thing at home and here.

"As I see it, there is now but, one problem, now that they are here, and that's to get on housed within six or eight weeks. Things have been a terrible mess. They are getting even straightened out, but even now not fast enough.

"There is about 700 or 800 of 'em. About 200 went back; also of 'em that many workmen sent from the transport camp down home (not CCC), but its just a few weeks to now, now, and they have to be out of the tents, both workmen and settlers.

"There's plenty food and always has been and will be. They can always get that in, but its houses they need right now, and Colonel Hunt, in charge realizes it.

"You know, after all, there is a lot of difference in pioneering for gold and pioneering off Sinaloa.

Yours, 'Will Rogers

ROCKYFORD

Political meetings are the order of the day, there having been four within a week at the Town Hall. Mr. Buckley was the chief speaker at the U. F. A. meeting. Mr. Hughes at the Conservative meeting, supported by Mr. Jater and Mr. Mahaffey. Mr. McEneaney and Mr. Blackmore at the Social Credit meeting and Mr. Klumpson and Mr. Shaw at the Liberal meeting. All of the speakers received interested and courteous attention.

Born to Mr and Mrs Meunelholter a daughter, at the Calgary hospital.

There has been much excitement lately between Brooks and Rockyford ball games, Brooks winning the first game at their home town, Rockyford the second at their home town, the third game at Glenora being won by Rockyford.

Owing to rain the Sunday School picnic which was to have been held at Mr. L. Wise's grove was held on the church grounds instead.

Mr and Mrs Douglas have just returned from their holidays.

Mr and Mrs Bruggeman accompanied by their niece, the Misses Edna and Margaret Linnhart took a hot day at Jasper park recently.

Mrs York has returned from the Calgary hospital to her home here.

Several people have been delayed over the week end with their cars, owing to the heavy rain on Saturday night.

Mr and Mrs Howick have returned from their trip to the States.

Mr Bruggeman had the misfortune to break his wrist lately.

CARSELAND

Last time had the misfortune to be thrown from his horse about a week ago, landing on his head. He has suffered considerable pain and is taking treatment in Calgary. We hope he will soon be well again.

Two softball teams journeyed to Edmonton last Wednesday, when the girls team came in for a trimming but the men's team won two straight and brought home the first prize.

The Blind Creek Ladies Aid met last week at the home of Mrs. Alberta Kelly, Moncton, when some thirty ladies were present. After the business of the day the following programme was enjoyed, Pianoforte selection by Norma Finckson. Tap dance by Florence Mallinger; Vocal solo by Mrs. Bivab; Violin solo by Mildred Mallinger.

Carseland Ladies Aid met at the home of Mrs. Melendy on Thursday when plans were made for the annual Fall Supper to be held in Oct.

"The tumult and the shouting dies"; The campaign is ending. One wonders whether all these addressing "this intelligent and discriminating audience" will have the same opinion after the vote has been counted. At any rate all parties were given a sympathetic hearing in Carseland.

The last meeting of the P. B. Club was held at the home of Mrs. Ben Cooke. Mrs. Standly and Mrs. Match were luncheon hostesses for the day. We regret to report that little Josie Match is quite sick and has had to be taken to the hospital. We wish him a speedy recovery.

The teachers have been moved to the South side of the school grounds, where it has been accommodated with a brand new basement. It can now be recorded among city real estate as "close in."

BAINTREE

Mr. Wm. Bullis and Donald left on Thursday for Vancouver where they will spend a few weeks.

Local residents are pleased to learn that Betty MacBeth is home again after an operation for appendicitis.

Miss Mae Longbottom is in Calgary. She expects to be employed for a month.

Heavy rains fell here over the week end causing delay in a few who were still haying. The grain is rapidly ripening. Binders are in the fields doing strong.

Mrs. May had her mother Mrs. Jacobs of Nightingale visiting her on Monday afternoon.

A number of good Liberals went to Rockyford to hear Mr. Vaughan Klumpson on Saturday.

It might be well for Canadian authors to take to heart these words of "LAVATER."

Nellie L. McClung

Nellie L. McClung, well loved novelist of Jordan Head, Vancouver Island, formerly of Calgary, whose autobiography will make its appearance next week. "Clearing in the West" is the title given to this story of Mrs. McClung's eventful life, which has been in preparation for some time, and which is being eagerly awaited by her host of friends and admirers.

She: Why don't you like girls?
He: They're too blase.
She: Blase?
He: Yes, blasé, and blasé that, until I'm broke.

A City of Trees
Addis Ababa in English means The New Flower.

In the king's English, Addis Ababa capital of Ethiopia means the new flower. Dr. Marshall A. Howe, newly-elected director of the New York botanical garden said that contrary to general belief, it is a city of trees and many gardens, an excellent spot for flower growing.

Few persons pronounce Addis Ababa correctly, says the United States geographical board. The board says it is Addis Abawawa, with the accent on the first syllable of each word.

ROGERS, FOREMOST JOKESTER

Will Rogers, given at birth the imposing name of William Penn Adams Rogers, but known to everyone as "Will," was a cowboy, humorist, writer, lecturer, philosopher, world traveler and famous movie star. He was born at Oklahama, Indian Territory, November 7, 1879, but he called Claremore, Okla., his home town.

He had Indian blood in his veins and was proud of it. He appeared in Winnipeg on the old Orpheum circuit many years ago.

His reputation as a humorist and entertainer spread and he finally accepted an offer to become a public entertainer. First, he travelled with a circus and wild west show. Then he entered vaudeville. He first appeared in New York at Keith's Union Square theatre, in 1906. Flo Ziegfeld, producer of the Follies, witnessed the rise of the young humorist, and in 1915 made Rogers a feature performer with the Follies.

Rogers was a big success and in 1916 Samuel Goldwyn offered him a motion picture contract which he signed. After a meteoric rise in Hollywood, Rogers returned briefly to his first love, the Follies, for the year of 1921 and then devoted another year to picture making.

In his newspaper comments, limited generally to 15 words, Rogers talked in common language of the news events of the day. Criticism was sometimes poked at his "ordinary folk" mannerisms to amuse, and amounted to one of the richest men in the entertainment business.

Rogers was married to Betty Blinn on Nov. 25, 1908. They had three children—Will, Jr., Mary and James. In his late years one of Rogers' hobbies was playing polo, and, forming a team with his children, he became one of the most ardent enthusiasts of the Pacific coast.

WORLD EVENTS

In Alberta this week the best gets a collection of more vital importance than in any other part of the world. It is a long, straight, and before this paper comes from the press, the day will have been largely set. One wants the outcome will rest entirely on the lips of Europe and Africa. Other provinces are taxing the brain and heart of the Statemen's Britain, France, Italy and Finland. Minnesota has been called on by the whirlwind of his own path to desire for power, regard as the effect on the people. Ethiopia, not aggressive, content with its own life and industries to the grey he strives to engulf in his ruthless greed. It gives place as his excuse the need for larger colonies for Italy's crowded population, while at the same time he is encouraging by bonuses, etc. large and larger families. It is easy to see through his pretext, his dominant greed for power. It is most earnestly to be hoped he will be caught in the mesh of his own horrid web.

WHAT PRICE ETHIOPIA?

The entire world will pay for Mussolini's Ethiopian venture. And it is doing so it will use two kinds of currency. One of these may be described as the currency of its international idealism, the Kellogg Pact, the League of Nations prestige. The other must be described as the hard cash of economic fact.

World bankers in meeting at Basel, Switzerland, yesterday expressed this belief. To them the independence of nations is automatic. The strain which an Ethiopian war would place on Italy's finances, as many of these bankers see it, would be enormous. It is a question of world recovery.

Wars are fought with money as well as with men. And it is not many months since Italy's price was so low as to attract wide attention. Her establishing of import controls was an acknowledgment of her straitened financial condition. Nevertheless to day Italy is importing war materials from numerous sources, and has already withdrawn silver coin and melted private citizens' holdings of currencies, a measure usually necessary not at the beginning of war but toward its end.

One of the gravest aspects of Mussolini's Ethiopian policy is that he has placed so much emphasis on it that he has declared his determination to carry it through to a successful conclusion, as to make it politically almost impossible to turn back short of victory. Ethiopia must be won at any cost, not because Ethiopia is worth the lives and the wealth that Italy will pay for it, but because Ethiopia has already been made a symbol of quantities which Fascism counts as its peculiar virtues.

Mussolini, like many another national leader, is fast making himself the prisoner of his own propaganda. It is indeed, he has not already done so, from that standpoint there is only one escape—to buy one's own way with the lives of one's own citizens and with the property of one's own subjects everywhere.

Should the peoples of the world submit to this procedure?

SURVEY MADE OF CHEMICAL WEED KILLERS

The sixth of a series of studies dealing with weed rogues and control has been issued by the Northwest Grain Dealers Association. This pamphlet deals with chemical weed killers and the result of a research conducted by Dr. C. J. D. Foster, Professor of Agronomy, University of Minnesota, and Dr. C. J. D. Foster, Professor of Agronomy, University of Minnesota, and Dr. C. J. D. Foster, Professor of Agronomy, University of Minnesota.

Foster, Professor of Agronomy, University of Minnesota, and Dr. C. J. D. Foster, Professor of Agronomy, University of Minnesota.

Summarizing the results of the survey, the pamphlet states: 1. The use of chemical weed killers is only justified where cultivation can not be properly done, or where it has proven ineffective.

2. The use of chemical weed killers is only justified where cultivation can not be properly done, or where it has proven ineffective.

3. The profitable use of chemicals for the control of perennial weeds is confined almost entirely to the treatment of rather small patches.

4. Fertilizers, properly applied, are a material aid in lessening the weed menace in the common cereal crops.

Copies of this booklet can be obtained, free of charge, from any line elevators agent, or by writing to the Northwest Grain Dealers Association, Winnipeg.

IMPERIAL OIL LTD SHARES

Distribution of 208,528 shares of Imperial Oil Ltd. with a market value exceeding $1,000,000 has been completed within the past few days to 2,557 of the company's employees in Canada. Some of these shares went into practically every community in the country and a list of the occupations of the employees who received them would be almost endless.

In Manitoba 345 shares were distributed. In Saskatchewan 1,370 and in Alberta 21,849.

The employees acquired this stock over a period of three years through the Company's Fourth Cooperative Investment Trust. Due to the company's and appreciation in the value of the stock the employees actually paid out only 1,600,000. G. Harrison Smith, President of Imperial Oil, commenting on this distribution said: "Years ago the shareholders had speculated on Canada's future by investing millions of dollars in equipment to serve consumers everywhere in Canada. As business developed the importance of maintaining a personal service to the consumer and of promoting industry and enterprise became increasingly evident and so the plan of making employees' part owners of the business was devised. It is part of a general plan relating to proper and just treatment of labour," Mr. Smith said, "and is based not only on the belief that labour is entitled to good treatment but on the knowledge that efficient and economical operation of an industry depends upon loyal and enthusiastic personnel. In most cases," he said, "when you deal with an employee of the Imperial Oil Co. you are dealing with a part owner of the company. Of 55,000 shareholders in the company, more than 5,000 are employees."

After the close of the trial, the crippled pigs, which had received no supplement, were fed one ounce of cod liver oil per pig daily, with the result that the crippled condition disappeared and during the first thirty days the average gain per pig was thirty-four pounds. In roasting tests, at the Scott Station, pork from the cod liver oil lute has been found to taste the best and also, after six weeks have elapsed from the time of discontinuing the oil until the pigs were killed for pork. However, if the oil is fed during the last part of the feeding period, it is not necessary during the final six weeks before reaching market weight.

Alfalfa hay or meal has the advantage of leaving no objectionable flavour in the pork and may be fed until the pigs are ready for market, but in this test did not produce as high a gain as cod liver oil by 0.31 of a pound per pig daily.

The cost of alfalfa meal used was $2.45 per hundred pounds and cod liver oil was $1 per gallon. Pichard oil was tested against cod liver oil in previous tests and found to be equally effective and it usually sells slightly cheaper.

Harry Shotts made the trip last week and moved Mrs. Dankworth's effects.

Mrs. T. Skovdalen is under the care of Doctor Scott, Banff, going to Banff and back by plane.

It has been found, at the Dominion Experimental Station, Scott, Saskatchewan that pigs fattened in August and allowed to run outside until cold weather, will usually go through the winter without crippling, while the pigs fattened at the same time, and confined to buildings, become crippled early in the winter.

During the winter of 1934-35, August fattened pigs, which had been denied direct sunlight, were fed alfalfa meal at the rate of 10 per cent of the chop mixture, another lot received one ounce of cod liver oil per pig daily in the chop, while a third lot was used for a check by feeding the same ration without either supplement.

At the end of 61 days, the check lot was badly crippled and had gained only 0.1 of a pound per pig per day. The lot fed alfalfa meal gained 0.69 of a pound per pig daily and the cod liver oil lot made a daily gain of one pound per pig.
